The Spring Teaching Forum brings together all members of the Yale community (faculty, staff, postdocs, graduate and undergraduate students) to engage in a discussion on a particular theme related to teaching and learning for one day each spring.

- 2016: Valuing Diversity in Teaching and Learning
- 2015: The Impact of Technology
- 2014: Are All Yale Students “A” Students?
- 2013: Online Teaching, Student Learning
- 2012: Learning and the Liberal Arts
- 2011: Let’s Talk Lecture
- 2010: Teaching Collaboratively
- 2009: The Joy in Teaching
- 2008: Information Explosion
- 2007: Why Do We Grade?
- 2006: Teaching Students/Training Scholars
- 2005: Teaching and Research
- 2004: Lecture, Section, and Learning
- 2003: Engaging Complexity